

HISTORY AND THEORY AND BROWN UNIVERSITY LIBRARY PRESENT:

Digital History and Theory

An Open Conversation on the Futures of Digital Scholarship

March 3-4, 2023 - online and in person

This event brings together contributors to our December 2022 theme issue, "Digital History and Theory: Changing Narratives, Changing Methods, Changing Narrators," for an open exchange about digital history. At this event, our contributors will reflect on their past work and offer concrete suggestions as to how the digital can change the way we research, write, and teach about the past--that is, the way we do history.

For more information, visit the event website:

<https://historyandtheory.org/digitalht2023>

PRESENTED BY HISTORY AND THEORY AND BROWN UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

DIGITAL History & Theory

An Open Conversation on the Future of Digital Scholarship

March 3–4, 2023

Online and in person
at Brown University's Digital Scholarship Lab
(1st floor, 10 Prospect St, Providence, RI 02910)

For more information, visit:
<https://historyandtheory.org/digitalht2023>

This image is part of Khyati Trehan's "Digital Biology" series. Learn more:
<https://visualisingai.deepmind.com/artist/khyati-trehan>